Over 25 Years of interpreting the built and natural environments

Somerleyton Hall & Fritton Lake Country World

We produced interpretation boards and associated audio work as part of a major initiative to improve the visitor experience at the Hall and the Country Park. The boards are designed to reflect key themes of the two sites including architecture, family history, formal gardens, war time history, a replica duck decoy and nature trails. Below are just three examples of the many boards produced for this project.

Hickleton

As part of a major project to preserve and make known the heritage of the Yorkshire village of Hickleton and its church, we produced a printed guide and an interpretation board.

“The Interpretation Panel has been the icing on the cake for our project. Its simple design blends in well with its surroundings in the churchyard and is the focal point of information for the casual visitor and a celebration of the completed project.

Bessacarr Publications is a very professional business. Feedback from the village is very positive... One thing they all agree on is that it adds value to the village and its history - keep up the good work”
